A blackboard on an easel was also used, and Mr. Walton delineated with a piece of chalk the principal lines of the hand and their significance. He also explained the mearing of the different signs on the hands and the various classes of hands. Mr. Walton exhibited his collection of the impressions of famous hands he has examined. An interesting program of vecal and instrumental music was given the guests.

The will of the late Richmond Ogston Aulick, dated July 12 last, has been filed for probate. One thousand dollars is be-queathed to Harriet Hunter, the nurse of the deceased, and $100 to Brooke Shaw, an "old frierd and servant." The re-mainder of the estate is left to Mary Isabel Robeson of Trenton, N. J., mother of the testator.

In his will, dated September 29 last, and also filed for probate, the late Monroe E. P. Conrad left his estate to his wife and children, the wife, Eleanor G. Conrad, being named as executrix.

A bill in equity, asking the reconveyance of certain property, described as lot 14, Lanier Heights, was filed in the Supremo Court of the District yesterday afternoon by Margaret A. O'Brien, who names Mary A., John F., and James J. O'Brien as de-fendants.

PUTTING THE GAME ON A HIGH PLANE

Arranging to Meet Out-of-Town

OFFICERS AND DELEGATES

Teams. FOR SALE-A REMINGTON AND SMITH PRE-

> oldest of the two organizations now playing the game in this city, was organized September 12 as a permanent association, the original members being the Corcoran Cadets, Carroll Institute and the Washington Athletic Club. According to the rules of the association, no club was to be admitted that could not furnish a ground upon which the games scheduled could be played. This practically compelled every team in the organization to have a house of its own, and barred many organizations that were anxious to secure a membership. After organization was effected, an invitation to enter was extended to all clubs wishing to play basket ball. The Nation: Fencibles and the Government Printing Office Athletic Association responded, and the five clubs formed the National Basket Ball League of the District of Columbin The officers elected were: President, W. K. Larrimore; secretary and treasurer, George W. McGlue; delegates, Capt. E. C. Edwards, Corcoran Cadets; Capt. C. S. Do-mer of National Fencibles: Instructor Maurice Joyce of Carroll Institute; Mr. M. J. Brown, Washington Athletic Club; and

The season promises to be very

of any kind is allowed.

The season promises to be very successful in every way. At present only three games have been played, but it is more than satisfactory to the league, both in attendance, and from a financial view. In the game played between the Corporan the game played between the Corcoran Cadets and the Carroll Institute, in which the latter lost, considerable surprise was expressed that the Corcorans should put in an entirely new team in the first in-nings. This was due to the fact that the corps has two good teams, the juniors and the seniors. In the practice games the juniors managed to hold their own against the seniors, and so successful were they that it was decided to give them a showing in a regular league game. Accordingly the junior team was put in for the first half. They lost their nerve, and in that inning a score of lo to 0 was piled against them. In the second inning the seniors were put in, and they managed to hold their opponents down and score four goals. Out-of-Town Games,

The Corcoran Cadets have closed with the Central and West End Y. M. C. A. of Baltimore for two games, one In each city. Arrangements have also been made with the West Philadelphia Y. M. C. A. for two games, to be played some time after January 1, 1838. The first Baltimore game is with the West End Y. M. C. A., and will be the West End Y. M. C. A., and will be played next Thursday at Baltimore. It is the desire of the local league to play the game as h is played in all the cities in the north—clean and open—and to do this the organization has secured the services of Mr. H. Ferguson, captain of last year's team of the Baltimore Young Men's Christian Association, the team which won the national basket ball championship. He will coach all of the teams in the local league, and under his direction considerable improvement can be looked for. Not all of the clubs have played their opening game.
